Mission Statement

In conjunction with the overall mission of Arkansas State University-Newport, the Office of Disability Services facilitates equal access and opportunity for students with disabilities and serves as a resource for faculty and staff as they work with students who have disabilities.

Equal Access

It is the responsibility of all staff, faculty, and students to adhere to the philosophy of equal access to opportunities.

Definitions

(A) Section 202 of the 1990 Americans with Disabilities Act states: "No qualified individual with a disability shall, by reason of such disability, be excluded from the participation in, or be denied the benefits of, the services, programs or activities of any public entity, or be subject to discrimination by any such entity.

(B) Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act states: "No otherwise qualified, person with a disability in the United States shall, solely by reasons of his [or her] disability, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

(C) "Auxiliary aids and services" in college programs and services, are modifications of those programs, policies, practices and procedures that enable qualified students with a disability to have an equal opportunity to benefit from, and have access to, college programs and services.

(D) A "qualified student with a disability" is one who, with or without auxiliary aids and services, meets the academic or technical standards required for admission to, participation in, and/or fulfilling the essential requirements of college programs or activities.

(E) A "student with a disability" is a student who (1) has a physical, mental or sensory impairment that substantially limits one or more of his/her major life activities; (2) has a history or record of such an impairment or; (3) is perceived to have such an impairment and has been subject to discrimination or harassment as a result of that perception.

Note: The term "reasonable accommodations" may be more familiar than is "auxiliary aids and services." While the former applies to employment policy, the terms are often interchangeable.

Learning Disability	Psychologist, Neuropsychologist, School Psychologist, Learning Disabilities Specialist

Confidentiality, Storage, and Disposal of Documentation

Documentation of disability is kept in a secured location within the Office of Disability Services, separate from the student's general education college file. The Office of Disability Services retains documentation for five years after the student has stopped attending the college. After five years, the files are destroyed.

How Accommodations are Determined

The student's self-report, professional observations, and recommendations from a physician, psychologist, or other clinician, are used to determine reasonable accommodations for the student. The Office of Disability Services staff meets with students to discuss reasonable accommodations. Accommodation requests that essentially alter the nature of the curriculum or course learning objective are not considered reasonable under the appropriate federal laws.

Letters of Accommodations

Letters of Accommodations outline accommodations agreed upon by the student and the Office of Disability Services needed for the current semester.

Things to Remember

1. The Letter of Accommodations is renewed each semester and may change depending on the student and which classes the student is enrolled for the semester.
2. It is not the role of the Office of Disability Services to provide the instructors with Letter of Accommodation Notices. The student will give each instructor a Letter of Accommodation Notice.
3. Do not delay in delivering the Letter of Accommodations to instructors. Delay in delivery can cause delays in implementation of accommodations. Implementations of accommodations begin the day the student and instructor meets to discuss the Letter of Accommodation. It is important to remember implementation of accommodations are not retroactive.

Student's Responsibility to the Letter of Accommodations Notice:

1. Print off Letter of Accommodations from your ASUN student email. If you do have access to a printer, you can pick up copies from the Office of Disability Services.
2. Make an appointment with each instructor to deliver the Letter of Accommodations and discuss the accommodations outlined in the letter.
3. Letters of Accommodations are not issued automatically. It is the responsibility of the student to reactivate their accommodations each semester they are enrolled.

Section 4: Disability Service Policies

Exam Accommodations

Exam Accommodations are provided to students who have been approved through the Office of Disability Services.

Exam Accommodation Responsibilities: Student Responsibilities

- Students need to schedule exams with the Office of Disability Services at least five full business days in advance of the exam. Schedule exams by emailing disabilityservices@asun.edu.
- The Office of Disability Services will extend hours to accommodate night classes by appointment only. Appointments need to be made seven days in advance for exams outside of normal business hours.
- Students should arrive on time for their exams. Exams will begin at the scheduled time.
- Student cannot reschedule an exam without the consent of the faculty/instructor.

Exam Accommodation Responsibilities: Faculty/Instructor Responsibilities

- When possible, instructors should try to accommodate students who only require extra time on exams and/or a low distraction-free testing environment in a space within the department or building in which the class is taking the exam. By being able to take the exam in a similar setting, the student would be able to access the instructor for questions.
- If a student and faculty/instructor choose to have the Office of Disability Services to proctor an exam, the instructor should send the exam five full business days before the exam date.

For Tests Proctored by the Office of Disability Services

- Instructors have a right to establish exam parameters such as the day and time students are to take exams. The Office of Disability Services will only ask for adjustments when a scheduled exam interferes with the Office of Disability Services operations.
- Any change from the original scheduled test time/date will require expressed written permission to the Office of Disability Services from the instructor.
- Students will not be allowed to leave the testing area for any reason once an exam has begun unless the student requires an accommodation that allows for movement or restroom breaks.
- Students are not allowed to take books, book bags, notes, or any class related material into a testing area unless the Office of Disability Services has received express written permission from the instructor.
- Students are not allowed to bring cell phones or any other type of communication device into the testing area.
- No hats may be worn in the testing area.
- Students who wear clothing with pockets will be asked to empty those pockets in front of an Office of Disability Services staff member before exam administration will begin.
- Test rooms will be regularly monitored by proctors and/or close-circuit video surveillance while students are taking exams. If students are caught in violation of the Academic Integrity policy, the Office of Disability Services will immediately notify the faculty member for instructions on how to proceed.

- The Office of Disability Services staff will not attempt to answer any content-related questions on exams but will attempt to contact the instructor directly with the student's question.

Note-taker Accommodations

Note-taker Accommodations: Student Responsibilities

- Students who are receiving peer notes are required to attend class. The notes are a supplement to the class, not a substitute for attendance and participation.
- Students who miss class more than three classes without notifying the Office of Disability Services may lose their right to continue to receive peer notes. Note-takers are not obligated to provide notes for classes in which the student has missed.
- Students will use the note for personal study purposes only. The notes are not to be redistributed to other students.
- Students will notify the Office of Disability Services if the note-taker fails to provide notes.

Note-taker Accommodations: Note-taker Responsibilities

- If the student seeking notes wishes to remain anonymous, the note-taker will bring the notes to the Office of Disability Services for the notes to be scanned and emailed to the student.
- If the student seeking notes does not wish to remain anonymous, they make arrangements with the note-taker to obtain a copy of the notes.

Note-taker Accommodations: Faculty/Instructor Responsibilities

- Instructors may request a volunteer from the class to take notes or the instructor can provide material in another appropriate format, such as instructor's lecture notes.
- The instructor will request volunteers without disclosing the identity of the student with the disability to the class.
- Instructor may ask a student who the instructor knows take good notes to volunteer to be a Note-taker.
- If no volunteer can be found to take notes, the instructor should contact the Office of Disability Services immediately. A note-taker may be provided by the Office of Disability Services.

Audio Recording Accommodations

The Office of Disability Services does have a limited quantity of recorders available for loan and are loaned on a first come first serve basis and do not "reserve" equipment for students. Students who are approved for using an audio recorder in the classroom may also purchase their own recorder.

Audio Recording Accommodations: Student Responsibilities

- Students must not be disruptive in class when using an audio recorder.
- Students must not sell, redistribute, copy, or disclose recorded materials.
- Students must use discretion during class on what material is recorded.

Alternative Format Accommodations

Students whose disability affects cognitive processing may benefit from alternate format. Alternative format is available only to students who have registered with the Office of Disability Services and alternative format has been approved by the office.

Alternative Format Accommodations: Student Responsibilities

- Notify the Office of Disability Services as soon as possible of the classes in which alternative text will be used. If students change their class schedule, it is their responsibility to notify the Office of Disability Services of the schedule changes as soon as possible.
- Students must purchase their own textbooks for the classes they are enrolled. Additionally, they must submit proof of purchase for the textbooks before alternative format requests are processed.
- Student will sign a student agreement for alternative texts.

Alternative Format Accommodations: Office of Disability Services Responsibilities

- Requests for alternative textbook are processed in order of receipt by the Office of Disability Services.
- Notification to students that items are ready for pick up is made by email by the Office of Disability Services.

Interpreter Accommodations

Interpreter Accommodations: Student Responsibilities

Students who use American Sign Language Interpreters must register with the Office of Disability Services. Students are strongly encouraged to request this accommodation as early as possible prior to the start of the semester in order to ensure adequate interpreter coverage for classes.

Interpreter Accommodations: Office of Disability Services Responsibilities

- If students know they will not be in attendance for a class, they must notify the Office of Disability Services at least 24 hours of the scheduled class time.
- Students should arrive within the first 15 minutes of class (for classes under 90 minutes) or within the first 30 minutes of class (for classes over 90 minutes), if they do not the Interpreter will leave and the student will be assessed a “no-show”.
- If students accumulate more than 3 “no-shows” or fails to notify the Office of Disability Services of upcoming absences, the accommodation of interpreters may be suspended until the student meets with the Office of Disability Services to discuss his/her situation.

Equipment Loan Procedures

The Office of Disability Services has various equipment to loan out to students for their educational use. Equipment is available only to students with disabilities who are registered with the Office of Disability Services. The Office of Disability Services does not guarantee equipment to loan all students with disabilities but maintains a small inventory that is loaned on a first come first serve basis.

Guidelines for Requesting Equipment:

- All equipment and items are loaned on a first come first serve basis. The Office of Disability Services does not “reserve” items for students.
- Students who wish to take equipment on loan must check the equipment out in person.
- Students who check equipment out must sign a loan agreement to return equipment in good working order or the student’s account will be charged for replacement cost.
- Students must return all loaned equipment by the end of each semester. The Office of Disability Services asks that all equipment be returned by the last day of final exams.

An office staff member must be present when students return equipment to mark the equipment returned. Students are held accountable for any equipment left abandoned anywhere on campus which would include the outer waiting room of the office. Equipment is not considered returned until it is personally given to a staff member and checked as received on the loan agreement.

Service Animal

Definition of a Service Animal

- Service animals perform some of the functions and tasks that an individual with a disability cannot perform for him/ herself. "Service animal" is defined in Title III of the ADA regulations (28 C.F.R. § 36.104) as follows: A service animal means any guide dog, signal dog, or other animal individually trained to work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including, but not limited to, guiding individuals with impaired vision, alerting individuals with impaired hearing to intruders or sounds, providing minimal protection or rescue work, pulling a wheelchair, or fetching dropped items.

A service dog can be any breed or size, and a service animal may not be a dog. It might wear specialized equipment such as a backpack, harness, or special collar or leash, but this is not a legal requirement.

Arkansas State University-Newport considers service animals to be an accommodation, and therefore requires any individual who intends to have a service animal on campus on a regular basis have the accommodation of a service animal approved through the Office of Disability

Services. Upon registration, the staff will evaluate the disability and recommend any additional accommodations appropriate to documented disability.

Service Animal: Student Responsibilities

- Attend to the wellbeing and cleanliness of their animal.
- Animals must be under control at all times and not disruptive to others or they may be removed.
- Be responsible for removal of animal waste and maintaining clean conditions.
- Have a plan in place for animal care in the event of an emergency.
- Arrange alternative shelter if the animal has to be removed from campus due to disruptive or unsafe behavior or environmental conditions or if the handler becomes unable to care for the Service Animal.

Restricted Areas

ASUN may prohibit the use of service animals in certain locations due to health or safety hazards, where service animals may be endangered, or where their use may compromise the integrity of research or fundamentally alter the nature of a program or activity. Restricted locations may include, but are not limited to: research laboratories, classrooms with demonstration/research animals present, medical areas, research areas using radioactive materials or lasers, mechanical rooms or custodial closets, workshops with operating machinery, and food preparation areas. The safety of locations will be individually considered by the Disabilities Services Coordinator, the laboratory director or professor, and ASUN's risk management team when appropriate. If a location is determined to be unsafe for the use of a service animal, alternative reasonable accommodations will be explored and provided as appropriate to ensure the individual equal access to the activity.

Exceptions to restricted areas may be granted on a case-by-case basis by contacting the Office of Disability Services. In making its decision; the Office of Disability Services will consult with the appropriate department and/or laboratory representative regarding the nature of the restricted area.

Section 5: Academic Support Services

Academic Support Services are offered each week, the Academic Support Center hosts workshops covering life and study skills topics. Each topic will be covered on Monday and Tuesday. Faculty and Staff are asked to teach these workshops. The same material for each topic will be covered both days to ensure material is shared with Monday/Wednesday and Tuesday/Thursday students. For more information on academic support sessions offered, contact Christy Mann at Christy_mann@asun.edu.

Section 6: University Policies

ADA/504 Policy Statement

Arkansas State University-Newport is committed to a policy of ensuring that no otherwise qualified individual with a disability is excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or subjected to discrimination in University programs or activities due to his or her disability. ASU-Newport is fully committed to complying with all requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and as amended in 2008 and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (Section 504) and to providing equal educational opportunities to otherwise qualified students with disabilities.

Grievance Procedures

ASU-Newport has adopted an internal grievance procedure providing for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging an action prohibited by the U.S. Department of Justice regulations while implementing Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Title II states, in part, that “no otherwise qualified disabled individual shall, solely due to such disability, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits for, or be subjected to discrimination in programs or activities sponsored by a public entity.” Complaints should be addressed to the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, coordinator of ADA and 504 compliance efforts using the following guidelines:

1. A complaint should be filed in writing or verbally, contain the name and address of the complainant, and briefly describe the alleged violation of the regulations.
2. A complaint should be filed within 35 school days after the complainant becomes aware of the alleged violation. (Processing of allegations of discrimination that occurred before this grievance procedure was in place will be considered on a case-by-case basis.)
